MURDER AT WICKLIFFE.

Two Saloon Keepers Figth With Fatal Results-Shootist Held for the Killing.

Paducah, Ky., Oct. 8 .- The town of Wickliffe, the county seat of Ballardl county, was the scene of a shocking tragedy. N. R. White, a saloon man, shot and instantly killed Henry Blackburn, also a saloon-keeper. The trouble originated over a quarrel between Ed Burg, the son of a liverman of Cairo, Ill., and Ed Overby, the son of a wealthy citizen of Wickliffe. The quarrel took place in White's saloon, and he ordered the crowd out. Blackburn took Overby's part and drew his pistol, when White at once seized his shotgun, loaded with buckshot, and fired. Blackburn's head was almost entirely blown off. White is being held on the charge of murder, but is under guard.
